

Vojtech Gadurek - Election Manifesto

About Me

Hello, my name is Vojta, some also call me Dláža. In my free time, I study General Computer Science, and if all goes according to plan, I should graduate with a bachelor's degree this September. (I'm technically in my second year, but that's a long and fun story 😊; I'll leave it to the reader's imagination as an exercise).

When I'm not working on my thesis, I spend my time playing frisbee and telling quality jokes during lectures. Occasionally, you can find me climbing at Smíchov.

Election Manifesto

In November, I became a substitute member of SKAS. Since I believe that the last election manifesto still applies, I recommend reading it as well.

https://docs.google.com/document/d/1768DMP-UiZ1S6wi_msY3_BjweqPggi90tC0N1ZhavC4/edit?usp=sharing

More Openness

During my studies at Matfyz, I've met many fantastic, incredibly smart, and capable people. I'm glad to call some of them my friends.

On the other hand, in such a group, it's incredibly easy to feel stupid. Over the few years I've been at our faculty, I've met many people who feel this way. There are so many of these people. According to Dirichlet's principle, 90% of people cannot be among the worst 10%.

The question is, what to do about it. Maybe we could start by being more honest with each other and more willing to share our struggles at Matfyz.

School for students, not students for school

Even though I enjoyed all my PE courses at Matfyz, I don't think knowing the way to Hostivař by heart will be beneficial in real life unlike Prolog.

I'm glad that the requirement to print bachelor's theses has been abolished. I'd like to build on this and try to reduce or eliminate redundancies or relics from the past to make studying easier for everyone.

More for foreign colleagues

Foreign students bring prestige to our faculty and university, yet they have no representation in the academic senate. A possible issue is that the working language of the senate is Czech.

Another question is how these students are informed about the existence of the senate. This is also evident in the number of election manifestos available in English.

Conclusion

Now, dear reader, I must bid you farewell. Thank you for reading my election manifesto.